

The Land Conservancy of San Luis Obispo County

A rare and iconic landmark unique to San Luis Obispo County, the Octagon Barn was on the verge of collapse when The Land Conservancy stepped in to save the building and revitalize the site for community benefit. Today, thanks to many dedicated volunteers and generous donors, The Land Conservancy has restored the historic Octagon Barn itself; however, more work is needed to complete the Octagon Barn Center and open the site for public use.

The Octagon Barn and its surrounding buildings, which include the Milking Parlor, Calf Barn, and other structures, which will be known as the Octagon Barn Center, will be a landmark gateway to the City of San Luis Obispo that serves as a community gathering place for recreation, education, conservation, and the arts. Since 1996, The Land Conservancy has led community efforts to lovingly restore the Octagon Barn which is now poised for new activity at the center of SLO County's life.

Please consider making a gift today. In thanks for your $1,500 tax-deductible donation, The Land Conservancy will lay a brick on the site with your own personal message. With your help, we can throw the Barn doors open this year!
